Introduction

Everyone knows coffee is best when made from freshly ground beans. The Krups Fast Touch Coffee Grinder ensures your best coffee is only the push of a button away.

The coffee grinder comes in two parts: the body and the cap. The body houses the device's single stainless steel blade and holds the beans or grounds, while the removable cap features the button powering the grinder. The grinder is electric, so no manual labor or batteries are required.

Push the grind button and watch as the stainless steel blade spins and turns your whole coffee beans into ready-to-be-brewed grounds. In only a few seconds, you can have enough fresh grounds for up to a full pot of coffee (12 cups).

Little maintenance is required. The coffee grinder is small and requires little space to operate or store.

The Krups Fast Touch Coffee Grinder is a must-have for any coffee fan looking to explore new brews and flavors.

Specifications

Appearance

The grinder is made of two primary parts: a black glossy body and a removable clear cap. The outside of the coffee grinder is mostly plastic and features an oval design. The body houses a stainless-steel blade and grinding tray and also features the Krups branding and the electrical cord for powering the device. The clear cap covers the tray while grinding and includes the black grinding button which activates the blade when placed on top of the body.
